BOGHOSIAN AND CDFA REACH AGREEMENT REGARDING CALIFORNIA RAISIN MARKETING ORDER

FRESNO, Calif., June 8, 2016 — After many years of litigation between Boghosian Raisin Packing Company and the California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA), the California Raisin Marketing Board (CRMB) is pleased to announce an amicable resolution has been reached among all parties who believe that time and money spent on effective promotions and research is far more beneficial to the industry than continued litigation.

California growers and packers produce, process, and market the highest quality raisin products under the most stringent food safety regulations in the world today. All parties feel that continued litigation only impedes the industry's ability to market and promote the world's leading dried fruit, California raisins.
